Discernment Reflection Questions

Thoughts to ponder and murmur......

What is my favorite scripture story or quote about call and discernment?

What song best describes my relationship with God? What are my favorite songs from Church and on the radio?

What has been the most meaningful service I have engaged in so far? What has made it so memorable?

What am I hoping to do with my life that I haven’t been able to do so far?

When I hear the scripture stories of call and the stories of Jesus in the Christian scriptures, what resonates with my own story of call? What is my deeper story in my relationship with God?

Where am I finding joy and giving love?

When am I most enthusiastic, compassionate, and merciful?

How am I experiencing the Spirit’s presence within me?

When I daydream, is it about possessions or people?

What has been the most memorable day of my life? Who was there?

What is the best title of the story of my life? Is there a theme song that best describes my life?

Write a line that symbolizes your life span. Put a check mark next to where you are right now. Make a list of the hallmarks of your life so far....make a second list of what you still have time to do....make a list of what may be too late for you to do. What is the significance of your lists?

What is keeping me from living fully? What are the fears that hold me back?

Where do I envision myself three years from now? Ten years from now in 2025?

What is my love song to God? What is God’s love song to me?

Make a list of your positive qualities....make another list of the characteristics you admire in others.

Each of us has been blessed with a lifetime of memories and dreams come true. One hundred years from now, what will be my legacy? Who will echo the words of my song after I’m gone? And want to make our collective dreams turn into reality?

After this evening, I want to remember....I hope that....I wonder...

What further questions do I have? What might I do with the questions I have?
