

REDISCOVERING FIRE

A Conversation with Brother Sean Sammon, FMS, Sister Deborah Borneman, SSCM,
Congregational Leaders, Vocation/Formation Directors & Teams, Collegiate & Congregational Mission & Ministry Leaders

Main Speaker (with a Breakout Session 1)

Brother Sean, a former Provincial of the Marist Brothers in the United States, holds a Ph.D. in Clinical Psychology, is an internationally known speaker on issues related to religious life and vocations and has authored many books. Sean will discuss the challenges facing Religious Life in the 21st Century and what needs to be done to ensure its availability as a life choice for future generations.

Breakout Session 2

Sister Deborah Borneman, Associate Director of the National Religious Vocation Conference and a former campus minister, will focus on how to create a culture of vocations on college campuses.

Religious Vocations: Why be Hopeful? How do we Energize Our Communities?

Those of us
in Religious Life today would do well to rediscover fire,
the fire that was there
at the time of the foundation of our congregation...

When we find it for ourselves,
young people will come
once again
to our way of life.
They have in the past;
they will in the future-
have no doubt.

Adapted from Brother Sean Sammon, FMS

APRIL 25 10:00 - 12:30PM

Mount Saint Joseph Convent 9701 Germantown Avenue
Philadelphia, PA 19118

Sponsored by NRVC Delaware Valley Member Area

For more information or registration: sisterceleste@ssjphila.org